

Meet Nurse-Family Partnership's new North Carolina Executive Director

April Harley joined the NFP National Service office as the North Carolina executive director in April. For the past four years, April was the principal consultant of The Harley Firm, a firm she founded to build donor relations and financially-grow mission-driven organizations in North Carolina. In addition, she served as senior advisor to former Mayor Anthony Foxx of Charlotte and as North Carolina finance director and raised approximately $2.1 million for the 2012 Democratic Convention. April has over 9 years of high-level fundraising experience across two presidential campaigns where she raised $15 million by leading major donor strategy, managing high-profile fundraising events and building networks of community stakeholders.
